

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Addresses of contributors	4
Living and working in the Roman world: essays in honour of Michael Fulford on his 65th birthday H. Eckardt, S. Rippon and E. Durham	7
Part 1: Urban life in the Roman empire
1. Introduction: Michael Fulford and Roman Silchester A. Clarke, J. Creighton and H. Eckardt	19
2. Ambiguous evidence and obscured stratigraphy: interpreting the archaeology of late Roman and early post-Roman Cirencester N. Holbrook	31
3. Townscape and identity at Caistor-by-Norwich W. Bowden	47
4. Insula excavations H. R. Hurst	63
5. Planning the Roman city: grids and divergences at Pompeii and Falerii Novi A. Wallace-Hadrill	75
Part 2: Landscape archaeology and the Romano-British countryside
6. 'For men of rank ... basilicas': British aisled halls reconsidered B. W. Cunliffe	95
7. Attitudes to the hare in town and country N. Crummy	111
8. Farming regions in Roman Britain: "low merishe grounds" and the integration of wetland and dryland economies in the Trinovantian civitas S. Rippon	129
Part 3: Artefacts, economy and society
9. A French connection? A brief review of Early Roman pottery production in southern Britain J. Timby	155
10. To south and north: Saharan trade in antiquity D. Mattingly	169
11. Three stories in Roman stone: forts, masonry styles, and mosaics J. R. L. Allen	191
12. The problem of power mills in Roman Britain and beyond D. P. S. Peacock	205
13. Shoe brooches in Roman Britain H. Eckardt	217
Index of places and names	235